

Privacy Policy of Gallant Sales, Website and Business.

Gallantsales.com sometimes provides links to third-party websites for customer convenience and information. When accessing those links, you depart from Gallantsales.com, and Gallant Sales does not control those sites, or their privacy practices, which may differ from Gallantsales.com. We do not endorse, or make any representations about third-party websites. The personal data you choose to give to any unrelated third parties is not covered by Gallant Sales privacy statement.

Any personal information that Gallantsales.com might collect is used only to better understand customer needs and interests, and to provide customers with better service. Once anyone chooses to provide us with personal information, they can be assured it will be used only to support their relationship with Gallant Sales. We take seriously the trust that customers place in us. Gallant sales will not share this information.

Gallant Sales strives to keep personal information secure. We do not share personal information with anyone without their express permission.

We value customer's opinions. If there are any comments or concerns about our privacy policy, please contact Gallant Sales.

This privacy statement applies to Canada.

Gallant Sales
Dave and Linda Gallant

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read "Linda Gallant".